The status of the claims is as follows:

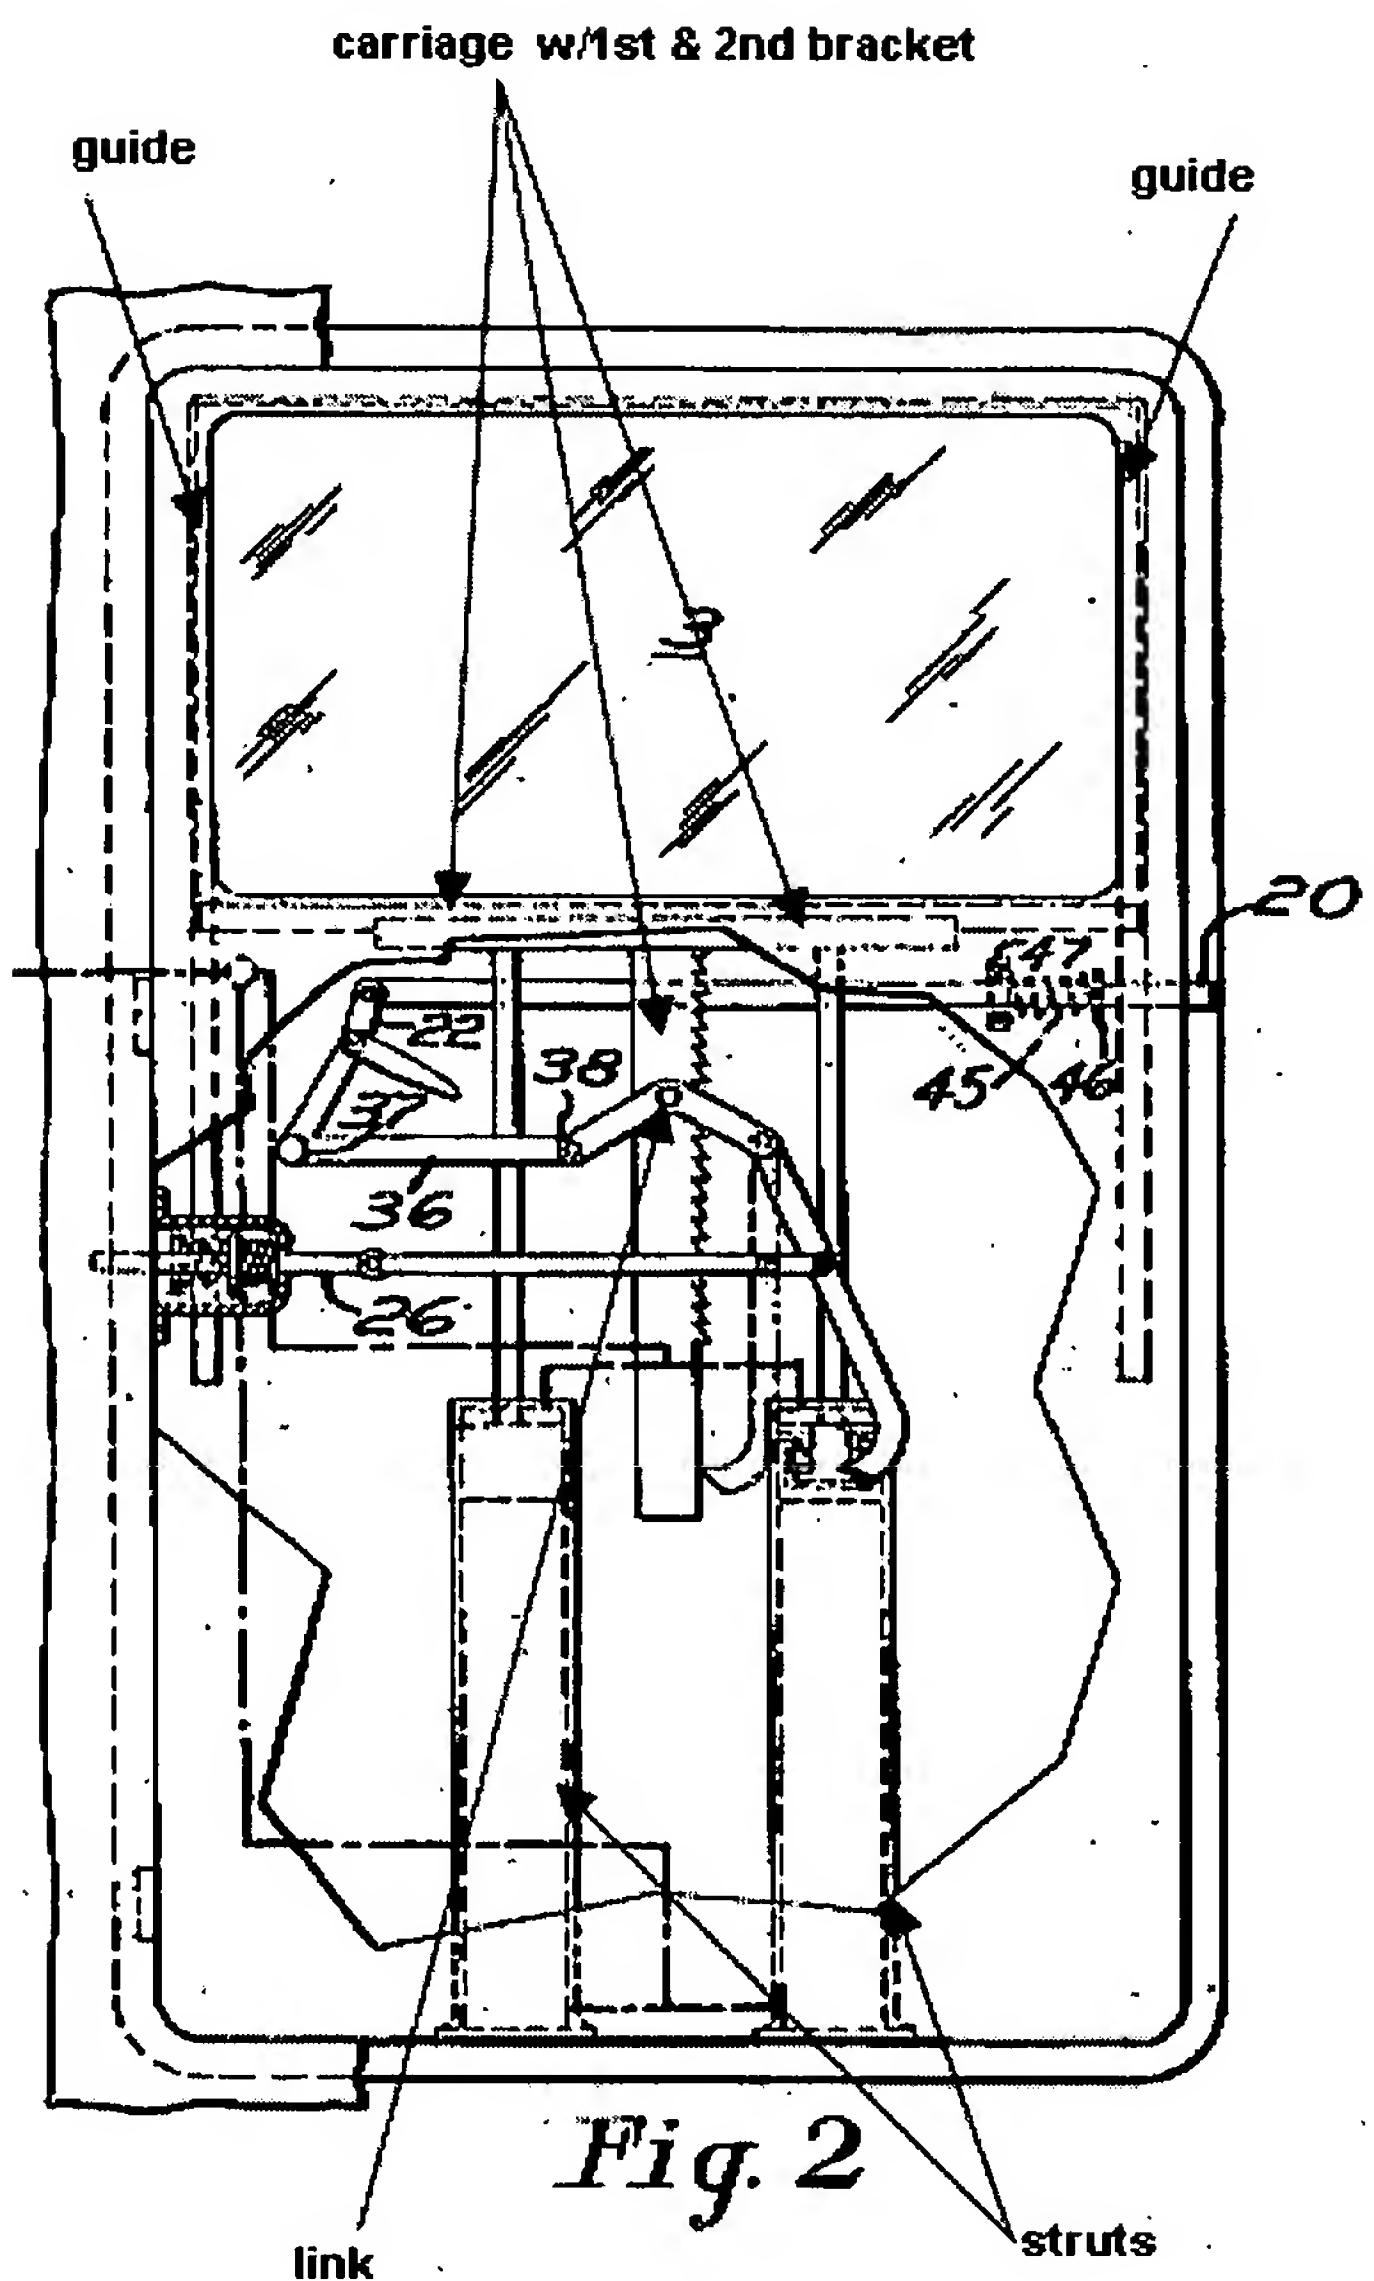

Claims 1-20 are herein addressed below.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Oishei et al. (2,820,628). Oishei et al. (2,820,628) disclose an apparatus for positioning a window comprising a lift mechanism (22, 28, 45, 36, 37, 38, 20 and 26) configured to move between a raised position and a lowered position and having a guide track (see figure below), a carriage (5 and 34) movably coupled to the guide track, a link (the middle portion pivotally attached, see figure) to the carriage at a lower end, and a pair of struts (6 and 6') that helps biased the lift mechanism toward a raised position.

Claims 9, 11, 13, and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Burridge (3,219,335). Burridge ('335) discloses an apparatus for positioning a window (10) disposed in a closure of a vehicle (column 1, lines 11-24), a guide track (21) configured to be attached to the mounting surface, a carriage (17) having a plurality of rollers (29, 30, and 31) adapted to engage the guide track (21), a link (14) pivotally connected (roller mounted with a locking pin and guided in the slot) to the carriage (17) at a first end and connected to a first window bracket (13) at a second end and an actuator (25) for moving the carriage along the guide track (21), and the plurality of rollers (29, 30, and 31) roll along the guide track to move the window (10) between a raised position and a lowered position.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3-7, 15, 17, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Burridge ('335) in view of Pickles ('702). Burridge ('335) discloses an apparatus for positioning a window (10) disposed in a closure of a vehicle (column 1, lines 11-24), a guide track (21) configured to be attached to the mounting surface, a carriage (17) having a plurality of rollers (29, 30, and 31) adapted to engage the guide track (21), a link (14) pivotally connected (roller mounted with a locking pin and guided in the slot) to the carriage (17) at a first end and connected to a first window bracket

(13) at a second end and an actuator (25) for moving the carriage along the guide track (21), and the plurality of rollers (29, 30, and 31) roll along the guide track to move the window (10) between a raised position and a lowered position. Burridge ('335) fails to disclose a strut. Pickles ('702) discloses a strut (50). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the apparatus of Burridge ('335) with a strut as taught by Pickles ('702) since a strut provides assistance to an opening/closing mechanism during the closing portion of the window path.

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Burridge ('335) in view of Kouth et al. (3,640,022). All of the elements of the instant invention are discussed in detail above except providing pairs of rollers. Kouth et al. ('022) disclose a pair of rollers (see figure 2). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the apparatus of Burridge ('335) with pairs of rollers as taught by Kouth et al. ('022) since pairs of rollers increase the surface area for guiding between the window/drive assembly and the guide track.

Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Burridge ('335) in view of Pickles ('702) as applied to claim 15 above, and further in view of Kouth et al. (3,640,022). All of the elements of the instant invention are discussed in detail above except providing pairs of rollers. Kouth et al. ('022) disclose a pair of rollers (see figure 2). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the apparatus of Burridge ('335) with pairs of rollers as taught by Kouth et al. ('022) since pairs of rollers increase the surface area for guiding between the window/drive assembly and the guide track.

Claims 8, 10, 18, and 19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
